

2013年11月2日
星期六

本周目标:

1) 拼音: d, t, n, l

2) 笔画:

3) 生字: 耳, 手, 足, 多, 少

复习(fù xí)

• 人 rén

口 kǒu

• 头 tóu

大 dà

• 目 mù

小 xiǎo

d, t, n, l

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

生字 shēng zì

New words

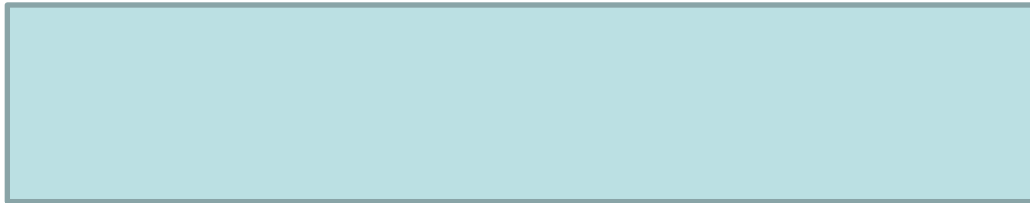

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

Blank light blue rectangular box for writing.

生字 shēng zì New words

Hungry Ghost Festival 2013 Begins In China As Spirits Descend On Homes, Wander Streets

- The gates of hell have opened. Its ghosts have been let loose to roam on earth and visit the homes of their relatives.

- According to traditional Chinese beliefs this happens every year during the seventh month of the lunar year, resulting in a raucous, feast-and-music filled celebration known as the Hungry Ghost Festival. But not all ghosts are good. There are some spirits who wander the streets, ravenous and envious because they died without descendants or were ignored by their kin while alive.

What do people do?

Prepare a large feast to the ghosts

release river lights to warm and comfort the homeless ghosts

Burning paper money and other offerings to let the ghosts live a better life underworld.

What do people not do?

- NO swimming in the river
- No wedding
- No clap shoulders
- No wander around alone in street at night

